[BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.]

New York, Nov. 2.-[Special Dispatch.] As I write this after the returns are nearly all in, it is apparent that Richard Croker has been elected Mayor of Greater New York, with Robert Van Wyck proxy. Low, candidate of the Citizens' Union, runs second; Tracy, regular Republican nominee, third; George, fourth.

Just as the dispatches foretold last night, Van Wyck's plurality will be bout 80,000. In Republican strongholds, where Tracy's big vote was ooked for, Van Wyck polled a tremendous vote because of the split in the Republican ranks. There was an unlooked-for slump in the Republican rote in the districts north of the Harlem River. That district had been depended upon to roll up the customary Republican plurality. Tammany polled its full vote and secured thousands of recruits from the boroughs of Brooklyn and the Bronx. The lower New York districts voted almost as a unit for the Tiger, while Harlem's Tammany vote

TIMES BUREAU, Hoffman House, | Parker, Democratic candidate for Justice of the Court of Appeals, is elected by 100,000 over Wallace, Republican. Returns received late are to the effect that the Democrats elected a majority of the Assemblymen in the up-State districts.

The result today means the resurrection of Tammany Hall, more daring and powerful than that which waded through slime, filth and corruption to crushing defeat in 1894.

Van Wyck will be Mayor in name, Croker in fact. In looking over field for the reasons for Tammany's return to power, we see Van Wyck advocating home rule, denouncing the Raines law, which, by the way, is very unpopular there, and his sphinx-like silence on the money question. Had he been nominated on the Chicago platform, he would have scarcely been elected. New York spoke plainly enough last November on the currency question, and it was a shrewd move of Dick Croker in declining to permit any reference to the money issue to be surprised even Croker himself. It is made in the Tammany platform, yet impossible to give accurate figures PHOCION HOWA PHOCION HOWARD.

Gen. Tracy ran a good race against colossal odds, and President Quigg of the county committee manifests some surprise at Tracy's big vote. Long ago Platt and Quigg quietly admitted defeat, but their chief hope was that Tracy would run ahead of Low.

The decent, selfrespecting people of New York are loud in their denunciation of Low tonight, after the result of today's conbeen in the field, Gen. Tracy's election would have been almost positive. But as it was, the Republican vôte was split nearly in half, permitting Van Wyck to have the field practically to

The George vote is surprisingly small in all districts. He was very strong among the laboring element, but George the younger could not hope to be as potent as his illustrious father. While the principal fight was made for Mayor, considerable interest was aroused in the remainder of the city patch.] The Herald says this morning: "It is not the lady; it is the tiger. The Goddess of Liberty may return to her pedestal. As an emblem for the Citizens' Union she worked in a good cause, but the cause is lost. It was "the peo ple against the bosses," and the bosses have won. It was a fight between Van Wyck and Low to the end, and Van Wyck is elected. Col. Asa Bird Gardiner, the Tammany candidate for Distest became known. Had Low not trict Attorney, who consigned the reform to the hot place, understood the temper of the New Yorkers. Reform is now roasting to its toes.

"Judge Van Wyck has carried Greater New York by an estimated plurality over Low of 82,000 and a plurality over Tracy of about 129,000. He has swept every borough in Greater city ticket has gone through with rush. The Democratic county tickets in New York, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties are elected.

Van Wyck has polled a vote which falls possibly 40,000 under the combined votes of Tracy (Rep.) and Low (Citizens' Union.) The latter was successful to the extent of polling an aggregate vote in excess of the 140,000 pledged, implied by the signatures of the petition upon which he became a candidate of an independent government, which, at the outset, offered to join hands with the Republican party organization in a concerted effort to exclude Tammany from power in the greater city to come into being on January 1, 1898, with a population the second in magnitude of the great cities of the world.

county is approximately the same as was cast for Bryan in 1896, which was 135,624. Gen. Tracy (Rep.) polled approximately 55,000, against McKinley's vote of 156,359 in New York county, while Low (Citizens' Union) polled approximately 77,900, and George (Jeffersonian Democrat) 12,000.

In Kings county, which includes the city of Brooklyn, the Bryan vote, was, 76,882, while Van Wyck's will be almost the same. Against McKinley's vote of 109,125, Tracy polls approximately 35,000, while Low's vote is approximately 65,000.

In these two counties the straight Republican vote shows a falling off of nearly 175,000, or in excess of the total vote for Seth Low, while the Tammany ote equals, if it does not slightly ex-

THE GEORGE VOTE. Whatever might have been the result had Henry George survived the cam-paign, the elections, from the earliest returns showed that the substitution of the son for the father as the Mayoralty the son for the father as the Mayoralty candidate of the Thomas Jefferson Democracy had proved a failure from any but the sentimental point of view In fact, the George candidaty had made but a beggarly showing, scarcely 5 per cent. of the vote in New York City counted up to 8 o'clock having.

city counted up to s o'clock naving been cast for the son of the author of "Progress and Poverty."

The George vote possibly suffered by the failure of the supervisors of election to supply a large number of the precincis with pasters to attach to the voting papers.

voting papers. The law requires that, in the event of death of a candidate before the date of the election and after the voting papers have been printed, there shall be printed and supplied to each precinct pasters upon which are printed the name of the original nominee.

Although in the case of the Thomas Jefferson Democracy's ticket, the person substituted was of the same name as the candidate who died, Henry George, the election board held that the letter of the law should be observed and pasters were ordered printed and distributed in the prescribed manner. As already stated the distribution was not done in all cases, and consequently many voters were under the necessity of writing in the name of the second Henry George or voting the ticket as it stood, neither of which, it is claimed, was a literal compliance with the law. In some cases citizens who had intended to vote for George would not do so, anticipating that an attempt would result in the vitiating of the ballot as a whole. It has been held in previous cases of a somewhat similar character that the evident intent of the voter should be considered by the judges and the vote counted as regular and this rule has in all probability been followed in many cases today

DEMOCRATIC ENTHUSIASM. The attraction of the newspaper bul-letin boards for the crowds was not a whit less than it was last year at the Presidential election.

The streets in front of the bulletins were jammed with people. With very few exceptions every morning and evening paper in the city had bulletin some had them at branches. Some had two and three big white stretched in front of their buildings, photographs and colored views and the pictures of the candidates. From the south side of Nassau street to the park in front of the City Hall there were but two lanes in the enormous mass of people, and these lanes were just wide enough for one man to through. There was pushing and shov-ing and much grumbling and some bad words, but in general the crowd was good natured and good tempered.

The crowd ran more to noise than last year. There were more horns blowing than is usual on an election night, and at times it seemed like New Year's eve, when Trinity's chimes are drowned by the horn blowing. There was much roise made by promenading crowds of young men and boys.

In front of each white sheet was a dense mass of people, Each of these masses was a conglomeration of people of all parties. When, at the beginning of the show of pictures, the candidates faces were exhibited on the screens, cheers greeted all of them. The Democratic candidates seemed to have the most adherents, or they had the nost lung power, at any rate cheered their man with an astonishing There was a curious kind of cheer for George at all the screens. One would imagine that nearly everybody was cheering him, but there was not that burst of enthusiasm that greeted Van do it quietly. When the returns began to be shown, and each return gave Van Wyck bigger and bigger pluralities, the Democrats drew on the reserve power of their lungs. When about a third of the city had been counted up, the cheering for Van Wyck, which had been incessant, was augmented, and the noise they made was something startling.

How the people's throats stood it is a wonder. At one time some of the crowd in front of the Park Row side of the City Hall Park climbed over the When the returns began to be shown, caused a jam, and there was a panic on the part of some women in the crowd. A few screamed, but strong men kept them safe:

THE VICTOR IN SECLUSION.

At the headquarters of Robert Van Wyck at he Bartholdi Hotel, was the scene of great joy as the returns began to indicate a sweeping Tammany victory. A score or more of people were in the rooms where the returns were being received, and they cheered lustify. But it was a feast without the host. Mayor-elect Van Wyck did not appear at the headquarters at any time during the night. He left the headquarters at 4 p.m., going to police headquarters with former Mayor Hugh J. Grant, where he entered a private room of the office of the boiler inspector. He stayed there until 7 o'clock, receiving returns. He then left, presumably for the Murray Hill Hotel. It was expected that he would be at headquarters some time during the night, but at 10 o'clock the Mayor-elect's secretary announced that he would not be at the headquarters, and could not be seen.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The afternoon papers here publish columns of matter today devoted to the municipal election of Greater New York. The gossip and predictions generally express the opinion that Judge Van Wyck will win. The charge frequently made that the English newspapers do not 'devote enough attention to American affairs is untenable in the present case. The St, James Gazette polints out that yesterday's municipal elections in England are quite overshadowed by the New York election. Thousands of Englishmen who are quite familiar with the personalities of Messrs. Low, Van Wyck and Tracy, are entirely ignorant of the facts that their own local rulers were changed in the course of yesterday, as the account of these English elections is only to be seen in obscure corners of the English newspapers. All the morning papers print special cablegrams from New York City giving the result of the election.

The Times, commenting editorially on the election of Judge Van Wyck as the first Mayor of Greater New York, says: "It is clear that a majority of the Democrats whom Mr. George would have rallied to his standard, drifted back in the confusion due to his death to the Tammany camp, while the inability of the Republicans and the reformers to come to terms have practically given the game over to the skilled Tammany machine men.

"If Mr. Low had been elected an interesting experiment would have been tried, though even a stronger man than he might have found himself overmastered by its environments. We know what use Tammany will make if its victory. The merchants and bankers, the wise and cultivated men, the honest and philanthropic citizens will be as pliant under Croker's domination as the Italian or Hungarian patriots were under Matternich's benumbing rule, and who can deny that 'the people love to have it so?"

The Daily Chronicle also attributes Judge Van Wyck's election to the death of Henry George, and to the fact that the Republican party, though nominally hostile to Tammany, really depends for its existence on a secret depends for its existence on a secret working alliance with the sachems who follow Croker's lead. While expressing its regret and disap-pointment at the result, the Daily Chronicle would heartily congratulate the New York reformers and their disthe New York reformers and their dis-tinguished standard-bearer on the con-duct of a campaign, which will be prominent in American history:

The Daily News says: "The Republican machine has declined to immolate itself on the altar of good government. The only chance for Democracy coming out well from its trial in New York lay in the defeat of the party system, but party discipline and party loyalty are not easily broken."

THE STATE VOTE.

THE STATE VOTE. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Rain, which prevailed generally all over the State, had the effect of keeping back a great many of the country votes all over the State. The result is apparent in the reduced majorities given in concededly Republican districts to William J. Wallace, the Republian nominee for Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, as compared with the pluralities by which the same districts were carried last year. In many districts the pluralities of a year ago were reduced nearly one-half, and in few that have been reported, the falling off is less than 25 per cent. Conceding to Judge Parker, Democrat, a majority of 100,000 in Greater New York, it is probable that he has won in the State.

The returns for Assemblymen are entirely lacking in the Greater New York district, owing to the large number of candidates, whose votes must be counted before the Assembly nominees are reached, and the results here will probably not be known until tomorrow. Outside of Greater New York, with thirteen districts to be heard from, dispatches to the Associated Press show the election of sixty-one Republicans and seventeen Democrats. This, it is believed, insures the continuance of Republican control of the Assembly, whatever may be the result in the Greater New York districts.

Both Sides Claim Victory, but Republicans Seem to Have it.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
COLUMBUS (O.,) Nov. 2.—The result n Ohio is so close that it may require the official count to determine the re-sult, especially on the political com-plexion of the Legislature. The Republicans and Democrats are both claim-ing the State and the Legislature with such persistence that it will require the official count at least to get one or the other to concede defeat. Incomplete returns indicate the election of the Republican State ticket by from 10,000 to 12,000, but the result on the Legislature is so close that no definite figures can be given on it tonight. The Democrats confidently claim a majority in both confidently claim a majority in both branches of the Legislature, but give no figure on the number of State Senators or Representatives. The Repub-licans claim fifty-four Representatives and seventeen Senators sure, or seventy-one on joint ballot, seventy-three being necessary to elect a Senator. They also claim all of the twelve Representatives whose counties have not been definitely heard from. Out of five Senators yet to hear from they claim three, so the result of the Legislature cannot be determined un-til all the doubtful counties and dis-til all the doubtful counties and districts are heard from.

The change from the result of last year shows that the Democrats have gained in all of the clites largely, except in Cleveland. The gains in Cincinnati and Columbus were very large. The Republicans gained in the rural districts, but most of the changes were due to the stay-at-home vote in the rural districts, which was fully 15 per cent rural districts, which was fully 15 percent.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—Gov. Bushnell has carried Ohlo by a majority of from 20,000 to 25,000. This insures the election of a Republican majority in the General Assembly and the return of Marcus A. Hanna to the United States Senate.

In this city and county the Republican ticket has a majority of from 4000 to 5000 and the five Republican Senators and nine Republican Representatives in the Legislature are elected.

from 8000 to 10,000 plurality, and a majority of the Legislature on joint ballot for United States Senator. No figures were given on the thirty-six State Senators and 109 Representatives, but it was claimed that the Republican loss of fourteen members of the Legislature in Hamilton county would insure Democratic control of the Legislature. The Democratic also claimed the 102 members of the Legislature from Cuyahoga county, which includes Cleveland, the home of Senator Hanna. The Republican State Committee conceded the loss of Hamilton county, but claimed that there were not sufficient returns from Cleveland on which to base any estimate. With the loss of fourteen members of the Legislature base any estimate. With the loss of fourteen members of the Legislature in Hamilton county and twelve members in Cuyahoga county, the Republicans do not expect to carry the Legislature. The Republican State Committee claim they will carry Cuyahoga county and make gains in other counties. They state that they had anticipated losses in the cities on account of local fights on bossism and other factional troubles, but they had the best reports from the rural districts. A heavy continuous rain prevalled all day, and this no doubt affected the rural vote. The Republican gains seem to come from the rural Democratic counties and the Democratic gains from the Republican counties in which the large cities are located.

The Republicans at this hour do not concede the loss of their State ticket, or of the control of the Legislature, but admit that the result will be very close on both. Owing to the condition of the roads the bicycle messengers are having trouble in rendering the prompt service that was expected from the rural districts.

CLEVELAND (O.,) Nov. 3.—At CLEVELAND (O.,) Nov. 3.—At 3 o'clock this morning Senator Hanna claimed a majority of the Legislature on joint ballot. Of the result he said:

"I am not surprised that the result of the election has been a victory for the Republican party. I have confidently believed from beginning to end that the people of Ohio would see no reason to alter the verdict they returned so emphatically one year ago, and I was certain, on the other hand, that they would see many reasons why they should indorse their own decision. The majority given to the State ticket is a marked evidence of the appreciation the Republicans of the State feel for Gov. Bushnell's capable administration of State affairs.

"The effect of Ohio's decision will be, in my opinionu, a confirmation of the decision of the nation on the issue

BOSTON, Nov. 2.-At the elections today the Republicans, swept the State by a substantial majority, electing their ticket as well as three-quarters of the members of both branches of the Legislature.

The apathy which marked the entire comparison to the description.

The Legislature.

The apathy which marked the entire campaign extended to the election, although the stormy weather which prevailed all day probably accounted for a considerable portion of the decrease in the vote. The tremendous majority which last year elected Gov. Wolcott fell considerably, while George Fred Williams, the Democratic leader, also suffered, but not nearly as much. Last year the Republicans, after a vigorous campaign on national issues, rolled up a vote of 258,000, but such was the lack of interest this year that the vote fell to 174,000, a plurality of $5,000 over Williams. The Democrats, pursuing a more vigorous course, received 79,000 votes, as compared with 103.000 last year.

There was, however, a decided falling-off in the vote for both candidates, and Wolcott suffered more than Williams. With a lead of 17,000 over his opponent last year, the Governor this year had a trifle over 5500 in a total vote of about 58,000. Wolgott's vote of 23,000 this year shows a decrease of 30 per cent. from that given him last year, while the Williams vote of 24,500 shows less than 20 per cent. decrease.

How ever, enough is known to show that Bajley, the Republican nominee, has made a splendid race, but the latest indications are that Shackelford, the free-silver Democratic nominee, was elected by 8000. Hindman, the National Democrat, got a light vote, and Parker, the Populist candidate, carried the strength of his party.

LEXINGTON (Ky.,) Nov. 2.—Returns received at the Democratic State Central Committee headquarters up to 12:30 o'clock indicate a Democratic majority in the State from 15,000 to 18,000. The local municipal Democratic ticket was elected by 500 majority. Maj. Johnston, chairman of the Republicans Have Carried the State by Seventeen Thousand Plurality.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DES MOINES, Nov. 2.—The returns from about one-fourth of the 2005 pre-cincts of the State show that the Re-publican plurality will be about 17,000. These returns are from all parts of the State, including both city and country state, including both city and country precincts, and it is believed that the ratio established there will be substantially maintained. The ratio of Democratic gains has been about 23 per cent. for about 500 precincts. That will give the Democrats a net gain in the State of about 47,000. The Legislative ticket returns are slow in country. ticket returns are slow in coming in The best estimates obtained here give the Senate 36 Republicans, 12 Democrats and two districts in doubt. in pointes as the "righting Parson," has received more than 125,000 votes.

In the counties of Blair, Clinton, Cumberland, Dauphin, Huntingdon, Lycoming, "Juniata, Mountour and Northumberland the returns indicate that Swallow defeated Beacom, the regular Republican candidate.

Fusionists Claim the State by About Twenty Thousand Plurality.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LINCOLN (Neb.,) Nov. 3 .- At 1:30 his morning 124 precincts outside of Lincoln and Omaha had been received by the State Journal, showing a net Fusion gain of 1221. If this ratio of gain is maintained the Fusion plurality for the State outside the two cities mentioned will be very close to 20,000. Lancaster and Douglas counties canot cut this down more than 4000, and unless material Republican gains are made in towns without telegraphic service the Fusion plurality will remain at between 12,000 and 16,000.

Republicans and Fusionists Are Alike Claiming the State. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.,) Nov. 2.—At midnight practically no figures are to be had to show the result of the elections. Both Republicans and Fusionists are claiming to have elected a majority of sixteen district judges voted for, but sixteen district junges votes far, but their claims are indefinite. In the Atchison district ex-Gov. Glick (Fusionist) has been defeated for State Senator by R. H. Andrews (Rep.) No figures are to be had as to the election of the other State Senator and the four members of the lower house elected to fill vacancies. In Wyandotte county, in which is Kan-sas City, Kan., the Republicans elected their full ticket with the exception of O'Conner, by pluralities ranging from 200 to 1000. Bryan carried the county by 26 votes. Topeka reports a substantial Republican majority in Shawnee tial Republican majority in Shawnee county. Democratic Nominees Elected by About Fifty Thousand Plurality. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RICHMOND (Va.,) Nov. 2.—The election story in Virginia is briefly told. Although there was unusual apathy, it estimated that the Democratic State ticket is elected by about 55,000 or 60,000 majority, and that the Democrats have two-thirds of the House of Delegates and four-fifths of the Senate. Barring one little episode in Bonkeley, near Norfolk, growing out of a Democratic factional fight, there was absolutely no factional fight, there was absolutely no excitement. Neither party polled anything like a full vote.

RICHMOND, Nov. 2.—Returns do not indicate the election of a single Republican or Populist to the Legislature. The Democratic State ticket is elected by a large majority, but small vote.

RICHMOND (Va.,) Nov. 2.—It is es-timated on full and partial returns that the Democrats elect thirteen out of the twenty-one Senators, and seven-ty-four out of 100 members of the House voted for. McCaul, the Repub-lican candidate for Governor, did not carry his own precinct.

Mayor Maybury Re-elected Mayor of Detroit by the Democrats.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.-Today's muni cipal election resulted in a decisive victory for the head of the Democratic ticket, Mayor Maybury. The official re-turns up to midnight, with but three precincts lacking, give Maybury 2100 durality over Black (Rep.) William B. Thompson (Dem.) is elected Treasurer over Grunow (Rep.,) by something like 4000. Robert W. Webb (Dem.) is elected a Justice of the Peace. The Republicans elect John A. Schmid City Clerk by something over 2000, and also elect Felix A. Lemkie as Justice and Legislator at large. The Democrats gain two Aldermen and the new Council will stand 21 Republicans to 13 Democrats. Mayor Maybury's majority exceeds what he received in the special election for Mayor last spring by 1600. PORT HURON (Mich.) Nov. 2.—Every Republican candidate for city office was elected today by safe majorities. Stevens (Rep.) for Mayor, has 428 plurality over Wellman (Dem.) Eight Republican and one Democratic Aldermen are elected.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—With ten precincts yet to be heard from, the election of Mayor Maybury (Dem.) is assured, with a plurality of about 2000. Thompson (Dem.) is elected Treasurer by about 4000. Schmidt, Republican candidate for City Clerk, is relected by upward of 2000. Lemike (Rep.) for a Justice of the Peace. The Republicandidate for City Clerk, is reëlected by upward of 2000. Lemike (Rep.) for Justice of the Peace, by 1500 votes. Nine Republican and nine Democratic Aldermen were elected.

Their Candidates.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SIOUX FALLS (S. D.,) Nov. 2.—At midnight indications are that the Republicans have won South Dakota. Smith (Rep.,) is elected Judge of the First District by a close vote. In the second, Jones (Rep.,) is probably elected by 400 majority, overcoming an adverse majority of 1050 in 1898. Smith (Rep.,) in the Fourth District, is elected. The election of Campbell (Rep.) in the Fifth District, is claimed by 1200 majority. Gaffey (Rep.) is certainly elected in the Sixth. The result in the Third District is in doubt. The Populists have probably carried one district, the Eighth, and Wilson (Rep.,) is leading in the Seventh. SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) Nov. 2

Small Vote Polled-Silver Repub-

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] DENVER, Nov. 2.—The election in this city passed off in the quietest manner imaginable, with hardly an arrest and very little challenging. The vote was but little over half that cast last year. Returns received from the city up to 11 o'clock, indicate the elec-tion of most, if not all, the candidates of Silver Republicans by pluralities ranging from a few hundreds up to two or three thousand. Bulletins of the result are being shown at the news-paper offices, but there are no large crowds on the streets, and very little enthusiasm is display

Returns from the State are too meager to warrant anything more than a guess on the result.

At Sliver Republican beadquarters the election of Hayt is claimed by from 7000 to 10,000 plurality, while the Pepulists and Democrats claim Gebbart's election by 5000.

DENVER, Nov. 2.—9:30 p.m.—Returns from the State are very meager. There is no chance to compare the vote with that of last year, as there was fusion then between Silver Republicans against the Populists, while now the Republican (administration) and Silver Republicans are joined against a combination of the Democrats and Populists. Both sides claim a victory, but neither claims over 5000 majority.

DENVER, Nov. 2.—9:30 p.m.—Returns from this (Arapahoe) county so far received show the candidates of the Silver Republicans considerably in the lead.

DENVER, Nov. 2.—A light vote is lead.

DENVER. Nov. 2.—A light vote is reported from the State on Supreme Judge, the only State officer to be elected. Betting on the result is $100 to $75 in favor of Gebbart (Pop.-Dem.) against Hayt (Sll. Rep.)

DENVER, Nov. 2.—8 p.m.—The polls closed at 7 p.m., and nothing is known at this hour except that hardly more than half the normal vote has been cast. With twenty-two tickets in the field and many candidates on several tickets, the counting will be slow.

HOPE FOR SUFFERING MINERS.

HOSPITAL TO BE BUILT AT DAW-SON CITY.

Sick and Relieve the Destitute. Their Self-denial in the Cause of Humanity.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
TACOMA (Wash.,) Oct. 28.—From the Yukon River comes a story of privation and self-denial that differs materially from the usual Klondike tale wherein privation is part of the indi-vidual struggle for gold. Not to gather gold nor even seek it is the mission of eleven Sisters of the Order of St. Ann, who have carried a message of love and helpfulness to the gold-lined and helpfulness to the gold-lined Yukon, where, in the average breast, all such feelings are subordinated to greedy thirst for riches.

Nine years ago Mother Superior Mary Stephen and Sisters Mary Joseph and Mary Seraphine decided that on the Yukon was an opportunity to save men's souls and lives. They went up the river and established the Mission of the Holy Cross, situated 375 miles from St. Michaels. Eight other sisters of the Order of St. Ann have joined them, Sisters Mary Benedict, Mary Damascene, Mary Antonio, Mary Paul-ine, Mary Winifred, Mary of the Cross, Mary of the Passion, and Mary Magdalene.

Mary of the Passion, and Mary Magdalene.

The primary object of the sisters, until the great rush of miners began a year ago, was to educate and convert the Indians. Gathering the Indian children into the mission, the sisters endeavored, first, to see that they had sufficient food, and then to teach them. This year they have forty under their control. While not original in anything, the Indians are imitative and some of them learn rapidly. Experience has shown that, as a rule, they are unappreciative and ungrateful; and the most untiring efforts of the sisters have not prevented their continuing to steal from one another.

Sun-dried fish comprise the Indians' chief diet. Usually they have no difficulty in laying by a winter supply, but three years ago the summer's catch was very light and starvation stared them in the face. For months, during that long, cold winter, the Sisters of St. Ann denied themselves a part of their scanty stores to feed the children. Toward the close of winter food became so scarce that the children's daily ration was limited to one small piece of fish. Their pinched faces so touched the hearts of the sisters that the latter more than once added their own rations to those of the little ones. A quantity of flour belonging to the Alaska Commercial Company was stored at the mission that winter, but flour alone becomes indigestible, and makes a very hard diet. This flour,

Los Angeles Daily Times.

Thousands of men who intend going to the Yukon next spring, and their families as well, will be glad to know that in cases of sickness the sisters will be there to nurse and relieve. Sister Mary Stephen, the Mother Superior, says that no persons should stay in the Yukon country longer than two years without coming out for one winter, and building up their constitutions. So far the sisters have been unable to heed this advice themselves.

The big trading companies operating on the Yukon never pay the native pilots, deck hands and wood-cutters in cash. Last summer's rush up the river brought the natives into closer touch with civilization, and they learned to strike. Deck hands on one steamer were being paid $1 per hour. One day they refused to work for less than $2. They got it. They kept on striking until the wages were $5 per hour. When the work was done they called for sugar, beans, etc., in payment. The captain gave them about the usual quantity to their great surprise. When they wanted more, he replied, "Sugar is now one pound for $1, instead of four pounds; wages gone up and so has sugar. Everything else gone up same way." In practical results the strike was futile.

It is claimed that the trading companies make 125 per cent. profit on everything sold. If goods are damaged the price remains the same, or the unnies make 125 per cent. profit on everything sold. If goods are damaged the price remains the same, or the undamaged goods are sold for sufficient advance to maintain the usual profit. All returned passengers from the Yukon agree that the glories and wonders of the Aurora borealis visible during the frosty nights of September can be described by neither tongue nor pen. The northern heavens are radiant with brilliancy and every color is flashed upward from the horizon.

September is the one delightful month on the Yukon. Frosty nights have killed the mosquitoes, the air is pure and bracing, and the scenery, softened by the falling, autumn leaves of brilliant coloring, is grand. damaged goods are sold for sufficient Machinery for the Big Treadwell.

[San Francisco Chronicle:] A meeting of the leading owners of the Alaska Treadwell mine was held in New York on October 22, when it was decided to expend $500,000 in making additional equipments to the property. Three hundred more stamps will be erected at the Treadwell, making 540 in all. On the grounds of the Alaska United, between the Treadwell and the Alaska Mexican, another mill of 120 stamps will be built for the use of the United and Mexican mines. New compressors for the Treadwell and the United are other improvements that have been decided upon:

At present the power for the 240 stamps of the Treadwell and the Mexican plant is sufficient, but for the running of the new machinery an electric ning of the new machinery an electr ning of the new machinery an electric transmission power plant, capable of operating 600 stamps, is to be erected beyond the Gastineaux channel. This work will be accomplished in the spring, and when completed it is estimated that the ore of the Alaska Treadwell group can be mined and milled at a cost of less than $1. An eight or tendrill, compressor will also be placed next season on the Juneau mine in the Silver Bow district.

NOTE—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The abeve aggregate, viz., 135,215 copies, issued by us during the seven days of the past week, would, if apportioned on the basis of a stx-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 22,535

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly during the past several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business and this THE tecks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time; and it furthermore gnarantees that the circulation of THE TIMES regularly exceeds the combined circulation of all other Los Angeles daily newspapers. 1 acre in Downey, with 2-room house, chicken-proof fence, a fine well $6 feet deep; owner is going away and will sell for $250.
We raise everything in this valley; nature has done more for this valley than any other place in the State. We-cut our alfalfa 7 to 9 times a year, and it's the greatest dairy country you ever saw. Within a radius of 4 miles we have 12 creameries and 2 cheese factories; 4 per cent. milk is selling at $1.10; and for cows, hogs, corn, decideous fruits, tobacco, pumpkins, citrons, beets, turkeys, chickens and vegetables this valley beats the world. A free water-right goes with every ranch I sell. We haye had 4 inches of rain up to date.

This valley shipped $50 carloads of oranges last season, and $225,000 worth of walnuts; getting better every year.

Downey is the best all-round farming country it the State; we are not asking two prices for our lands, 12 miles from the city.

[BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.,) Nov. 2.—[Special Dispatch.] Capt. John Robbins of the British ship Ancona, his son and the Ancona's two mates, were attacked by the mysterious disease beri-beri, last spring, while their ship was among the cannibal Solomon Islands, where she had been blown by a South Sea ty-phoon. The mates died and were buried at sea. Only fear of losing his ship and her crew among the canni-bals caused Capt. Robbins to keep his energies together and remain on

The doctors now tell him that had the gone to bed he also would have died. His lower limbs are still partially paralyzed and his health is poor, though he is gradually recovering. It was not until he reached Shanghai just previous to sailing from Tacoma that Capt. Robbins learned that the peculiar disease he experienced was the al-most universally fatal beri-beri-Capt. They used every effort to reach the China coast every effort to reach the China coast, but adverse winds detained them a month and a half. The paralysis of their limbs gradually extended upwards and frequently they would fall prostrate on the deck. Two weeks after his attack, the first mate went to bed and three weeks later died. The other mate died ten days after. They suffered no severe pain, but grad

The Ancona's crew was not affected. The doctors do not know the origin of this disease, unless it be found in food. Dr. Miles of Shanghai has known of beri-beri for twenty years and physicians believe the Ancona's supplies must have been contaminated before or after shipment. They were taken on at New York and the ship had been out 200 days; her officers were well-provided with fruits. Beri-beri usually attacks Europeans in foreign lands and seldom affects Chinese or

Everything is in Good Shape Ex cept Second-Crop Raisins. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPOUT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2 .- The fol lowing is a summary of the crop bulle tin issued by the Weather Bureau for the week ending November 1: The weather has been generally dry, with temperatures nearly normal. The precipitation was below the normal. In the northern part of the State and In the northern part of the State and the Sacramento Valley, the weather has been favorable for oranges and olives. The former are beginning to color and the olives are being harvested. Both crops will probably be large. The rain at the end of last week has been of great value to the farmers who are now plowing, and grain will soon be largely planted. Pasturage is much improved. In some localities, however, more rain is needed, and farmers are sowing wheat on summer-fallowed land. The season is favorable on the whole for farm work, with prospects of a large amount of grain.

In the southern portion of the State and in the San Joaquin Valley, the rain led to general stacking, and raisins were saved from what otherwise would have been extensive injury. As it is, some growers insist that a large portion of the crop has been damaged, and while admitting that the crop was stacked in time, claim that dampness will cause half-dried fruit to mold. Second crop of raisins will be of little value except for wineries.

MADRID, Nov. 2.—Marshat Blanco, the new captain-general of Cuba, has sent a cable message to the Spanish government saying he has formed a favorable opinion regarding the prospects for the pacification of Cuba.

A semi-official note was circulated today, giving a more exact indication of the contents of the Spanish note in reply to the communication of the United States on the subject of Cuba than has hitherto been published.

The first part of the reply is a paraphrase of the latest note of the United States. It concludes with the assurance that Spain is animated by the same friendly feeling as is expressed on behalf of the United States.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

Since the death of Henry George, the election of Van Wyck, the Tammany candidate for Mayor of Greater Nev York, has been a practical certainty. Before that sudden event, there was some well-defined doubt as to the out come, though the best-informed polit ical prophets inclined to the belief that the Tammany candidate would win over all his opponents. The brief campaign of Henry George was a surprise alike for friend and foe. Mr. George showed unexpected vigor and dash in his campaign work, and introduced an element of doubt into the contest which became stronger and stronger as election day drew nearer? It is barely possible, though not really probable, that Henry George would have been elected had not death claimed him for its own upon the very eve of the decisive conflict. But his sudden death changed all. His following was to a great extent of a personal nature, and the facwas at once recognized, upon his death that the party back of him would break up and distribute itself largely among the other candidates. The nomination of Henry George, Jr., to succeed his father on the ticket, was a shrewd move on the part of the "Jeffersonian" managers, but even they did not have the hardihood to believe that the young man would command anything like so large a vote as would have been given to his father. The result of the election shows that a very large proportion of what would probably have been the George vote wen to other candidates, nine-tenths of it

All this is deplorable, if not calamitous. The return of Tammany to power will mean the revival of all that is bad in municipal government unless-which is improbable-the unspeak. able old Tiger has been chastened by adversity into some approximation to political decency. It will be one of the surprises of the age if the administration of Van Wyck should prove to be clean, wholesome, conservative and businesslike. It must be all this if Tammany is to retain, beyond the term of its newly-elected Mayor, the control of the municipal government of Greater New York. Van Wyck's election is in the nature of a political accident. The opponents of Tammany were divided. Their forces will probably be concentrated at the next election, and unless the Van Wyck administration proves to be clean and able it will be swept from power by the people in the next municipal campaign. Such a re sult may be regarded as practically as sured, since it is hardly possible for a Tammany administration to be anything but a corrupt administration. The results of the elections, outside of Greater New York, were, on the whole, as favorable to the Republicans as they could reasonably have expected under the circumstances. Comparisons of this year's vote with that of last year are manifestly unfair, as the Presidential election always calls out a large vote, while that of the year succeeding is almost invariably light. Briefly summarized, the results of the election, as they appear from the dispatches received at this writing (2 a.m.) are about as follows:

Van Wyck's plurality will be from 70,000 to 85,000.

The Republicans carry Pennsylvania by about 120,000 plurality.

Gov. Wolcott (Rep.) is reëlected in Massachusetts by over 60,000 plurality. The result in Maryland is close, with the prospect that the Legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, assuring the defeat of Senator Gorman. Virginia has gone Democratic, and the silverite faction of the Democratic party has probably carried Kentucky. The vote is quite close in Ohio, and the Democrats claim everything, as isual; but the indications are that jushnell, the Republican candidate for

WANTED $100,000 PER WEEK.

The Amalgamated Society of Engi neers of London, Eng., is making fran-tic appeals through the secretary, G. N. Barnes, for financial aid in the fight which the organization is waging against employers. Circulars have been sent, presumably, to all parts of the United States, begging contribu-tions to carry on the contest, which has lasted over four months. One of these circulars has reached The Times, with a request that it be published in full. Its great length, its incoherency, its interest precludes compliance with request. It may be noted in passing, however, that the circular modestly requests that the sum of $100,000 per week be contributed to meet the remere bagatelle, of course, amounting to only $5,200,000 per year; yet even $5,200,000 would buy a considerable quantity of bacon and potatoes if judiexpended.

In the course of the circular, G. N. Barnes, secretary, tells of the terrible practices resorted to by employers. He says:

"On their own side the masters have been fighting with relentless cruelty. One employer showed me four letters received in one day from firms with One employer showed me four letters received in one day from firms with whom he did business, refusing to give him further orders unless he joined the Federation. With tears in his eyes he told me that he would either have to enter the bankruptcy court or withdraw the concession of a shorter day granted to his employes. A week later he ranged himself with the Federation forces."

It "goes without saying" that it was very reprehensible on the part of the masters to take measures for pelling some of their weak-kneed brethren to "stand in" with the majority in the fight. Any employer who sees fit to yield to the demands of the strikers should of course be at liberty to do so. But how about the employes? It's an extremely poor rule that won't work both ways. If individual employers are to enjoy full liberty of action, is it wrong that individual employes should enjoy the same privilege? Yet in this strike, as in others, the employe who refuses to join the strikers, and persists in working, is liable to be maltreated or killed, and is sure to be treated as an outcast. How many times, in labor strikes, have honest workmen told their employers, "with tears in their eyes," that they would willingly return to work if they dared? And in how many instances have these honest employés been compelled against their will to continue in the ranks of strikers? Is it any worse for employ ers to use compulsion against recalcitrant members of their organizations than it is for employes to pursue simi-lar tactics? In both cases the practice is reprehensible, but "what is sauce for he goose is sauce for the gander."

It is possible that the workingmen of the United States will send $100,000 per week to the London strikers, but it is not probable. Some contributions will, no doubt, be sent, however, by men whose families need the money to buy bread and clothing more than the London strikers need it to continue the

RLOOD AND BONES.

EXAGGERATED REPORT OF DO-INGS IN THE "TIMES" OFFICE.

The Basement, Like the Subscription Books, is Open to Honest Doubters-All Killings Up to Date Were Fully Justifiable.

[Jawsmith's Journal:] A well-known published the following heartrending

"Every brick and stone in the Time Building stands for the cry of angulsh of some poor woman, and the very mortar with which those bricks and stones are held together has been dampened with the tears called forth by the heartless assaults Col. Harri-son Gray Otis has made upon women who never harmed him or his."

We are glad to note that a man has at length been found who is willing to handle this subject without gloves. It handle this subject without gloves. It is time that the truth should be told in regard to the awful atrocities that are constantly taking place in the gloomy stone castle at the corner of First and Broadway. The person whose words we have quoted gives but a faint glimpse of the truth. If everything were told, it would cause a shudder of horror to crawl down the backbones of our citizens, while innocent children would run hayding to the protection of their mothers' arms. Over the lintel of our citizens, while innocent children would run howling to the protection of their mothers' arms. Over the lintel of the Times Building might well be inscribed the words which Dante's imagination saw inscribed over the gates of hell: "ARANDON HOPE WHO ENTER HERE." Again we say that if one tithe of the fearful deeds that are perpetrated in that dismal den of iniquity were made public, the people of Los Angeles would rise up as one man, and raze the forbidding edifice to the ground. We risk nothing in asserting that if the basement of the Times edifice were excavated there would be found carloads of bones of innocent men and women who have fallen victims to the insatiate fury of the monster Otis.

tims to the insatiate fury of the monster Otis.

It is a well-known fact that the editor of The Times thinks no more of killing a reporter or a member of the Trytograbitall Union, than the average man does of squashing a mosquito. His favorite method of slaying his victims is to hurl a heavy inkstand at them, after which their bodies are carried away by his minions and deposited in a deep cellar in the basement, where quicklime is thrown over them. Such deeds have become so much a matter of course in the Times office that the them, after which their bodies are carried away by his minions and deposited in a deep cellar in the basement, where quicklime is thrown over them. Such deeds have become so much a matter of course in the Times office that the employe's scarcely pay any more attention to them.

So much in dread are the Times employe's of this human monster that they nearly all wear heavy pads of leather, stuffed with horsehair, under their shirts. One of the reporters only wears a liverpad, that being the weak point of his anatomy. One writer—a tall, German-looking fellow—who has a large family, recently applied to an accident-insurance company for the purpose of taking out a policy. As soon as he told the agent of the company where he worked, he was informed that the premium would be three times as great as that charged to men who work in dynamite factories. He was unable to afford this heavy strain on his slender resources, and his family is consequently suffering untold anxiety until he returns home safe, every day, from his work.

When that celebrated foundation was laid under one of the Times presses, composed of rocks and memericos from all parts of the world, another object was deposited there, of which nothing has been said by. The Times. It was the body of an unfortunate reporter, who had incurred the enmity of Otis, because he abbreviated the word California as "Calif." By orders of the editor of The Times he was put to death by three of his fellows, and his body deposited among the press-foundation rocks. The three men who killed him were then forced to dip their hands in his blood, and swear that they would never betray the secret, after which their salaries were raised a dollar a week, each.

It has been noticed that citizens who have incurred the enmity of the editor of The Times, for various causes, have frequently disappeared in a mysterious manner, and have never been heard of since. There is a trap door in the corner of the basement, which explains these mysterious disappearances. Under pretext of showing them ner of the basement, which explains these mysterious disappearances. Under pretext of showing them a new device in the pressroom, Otis invelgles these men into the basement, where, upon stepping on the trap door, they fall to the stone floor of the pit, at a depth of 17 feet 5½ inches below the trap door. A pressman is then sent down with a mallet to finish them off. and their bodies are by quicklime, as in t quicklime, as in the case of the re-

Until recently, Otis was in the habit of feeding the flesh of his victims to the big dog Toro. But on one occasion the dog was discovered by a passerby, in the alley in the rear of the building. in the alley in the rear of the building, chewing the ink-stained hand of a dead reporter, and exposure was narrowly averted by extending an invitation to the man to go into the basement and look at the press. The dog had become so accustomed to human flesh that he refused to eat anything else, and had to be sent away into the country.

so accustomed to human flesh that he refused to eat anything else, and had to be sent away into the country. How long will the brave and independent citizens of Los Angeles continue to permit such an awful condition of things to go on in our midst, unchecked? Let the law be invoked! Let the militia be called out, if necessary, to uproot this den of iniquity, beside which the underground torture chambers of the Spanish Inquisition seem like the comfortable cellar of a German beer garden.

[The above report is grossly exaggerated. We object to this constant misrepresentation. It can be shown, to the satisfaction of any fair-minded person, that all the killings that have taken place in the Times Building up to date have been thoroughly justifiable. The case referred to, of the reporter who abbreviated California to "Calif." was an especially aggravating one. By rights he should have been tortured before being killed, but he was let off with the simple death penalty. Instead of every brick and stone in the Times Castle being saturated with human gore, only those on the Broadway front are thus encarnadined; and as the gore there scattered around was mainly extracted from the lacerated bodies of the Clans Kulver, Mike Glynn and other waiking delegates, no apology is needed. The basement of the Times office, like the subscription books, is always open to honest inquiriers. Commencing on the 1st of January, a regular sworn monthly tabulated statement will be published of the killings that take place in the Times office, with the offense of the ulated statement will be published of the killings that take place in the Times office, with the offense of the person killed, the name of the killer (Otis) and the disposition that is made of the remains, whenever there are any jett. Rorkes Drift, South Africa, in January, 1879, died at Taunton yesterday evening.

Col. Chard was born in 1847, and obtained his commission in the Royal Engineers in 1868. As a lieutenant he went to Natal early in January, 1879, and on January 22 was left in charge of the commissariat post at Rorkes Drift, with eighty men of the Eightieth Regiment of infantry.

Seeing that an attack upon the post was imminent, Lieut. Chard caused a barricade to be hastily thrown up, the Boers using the commissariat stores for this purpose and building the breastworks partly under fire. Soon after dark the post was attacked by about 3000 Zulus, and the fighting lasted the greater part of the night.

Six times the Zulus succeeded in forcing their way inside the barricade, but they were each time driven out at the point of the bayonet. At dawn the next day the post was relieved by a British force, and 351 dead Zulus were counted near the barricade, while the number killed after that attack was estimated to be about 1000. It was generally admitted at the time that the defense of Rorkes Drift was the means of saving Greytown and Helpmaker, as well as securing time for the bringing about of a retreat for the main column. a retreat for the main colum

MYSTERIOUS EXPEDITION. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—Mystery surrounds the sailing of an Alaskan expedition. The company is headed by George Rennick, an Idaho mine operator. He and his partner, George Fin-ster, are supposed to be the only persons who have worked in the new camp. They came out about sixty days ago, and apparently reliable authority says they brought with them upward of $30.000 in gold. They discovered the new diggings, the exact location of which is withheld from the public. Rennick had been prospecting in Alaska with varying success for three years. After trying his fortune at Cook's Inlet and Forty Mile he went to Stewart River and thence to the district where he met with success. The diggings, so far as can be learned, are between Sitka and the mouth of the Copper River, and about 250 miles from the coast. The expedition, headed by Rennick, consists of twenty men, all in the employ of himself and partner. Financially they are said to be backed by Connecticut capitalists. ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The Police Commissioners seem to favor a 32-caliber revolver as a police arm. It is a cute little gun, and its moral influence may be great, but if a policeman should shoot anybody with it he might be found out and accused of malicious mischief. Down in Texas a man is likely to get his head punched for shooting people with such a gun.

A revolver in Mayor Snyder's hands hits the mark about as often as his ye-toes do. His target practice yesterday demonstrated that he can put a bullet within the circle once out of twentyfour shots. Those who have kept tab say that the Mayor has not yet sent in two dozen vetoes, and his friends are confident that before the number is complete he will succeed in making a veto that will stick.

The Fire Commissioners will probthe dis for supplying the city with fire hose. When the last set of bids was considered the board took the position that four of the brands of hose offered, being equal in price, must be equal in quality. This profound conclusion does not appear to be borne out by the facts. According to the employes in the fire department there is a very wide differdepartment there is a very wide difference between the several kinds of hose which the city is asked to buy. A little intelligent investigation by the commissioners will not be amiss.

San Diego is still kicking. Her kick now is at the Southern California Rail-way for stopping its trains more than two minutes at any point this side of the Bay'n climate. San Diego declares it unendurable discrimination that the railroad permits passengers to see any other town in Southern California, evi-dently fearing that some of them may be invelgled into staying at Santa Ana or some other town. The other towns probably will not kick if the trains run through to San Diego without stop-ping, provided the stops are made com-ing back, in order to give an opportunity to persons fleeing from that snarling village to select a peaceable place

A CHINESE LEGEND.

Origin of the Verses That Appear on Lottery Tickets.

According to Chinese tradition, once upon a time an Emperor wishing that a better book should be adopted for the instruction of his people, asked if there was any one of his counsellors that could get it up, and one of his concubines, being an enemy of one of the counsellors, suggested that this counsellor should complete the book in counsellor should complete the book in one night, under pain of death. The order of the Emperor, acting upon this woman's advice, had to be obeyed. The book had to contain 1000, characters, and no two characters should be alike. The wretched counsellor worked through the night until nearly dawn and then he stopped, finding he had only 920 characters completed. Then his wife, whom he called to his rescue, said to him, having read the 920 characters through. "Why my dear, you have not begun yet," and wishing to save her husband's life, sat down and wrote the eighty characters which appear on Chinese lottery blanks and placed them at the head of the 920 characters. At the palage the next morning the Emperor did not recognize the man at first, his hair having turned white from the terrible strain he was under the night before. This work is now adopted as a standard school book and used in all Chinese schools.

The characters on lottery blanks wer translated yesterday by the Chinese in-terpreter of the Police Court. Follow-ing is his version of the stanzas writ-ten by the counsellor's literary spouse "Somber heaven o'er this yellow earth.
The universe is a vast desert from its birth;
Sun and moon are waxed and waned,
And stars are orderly set in the heavenly stand.

UNION PACIFIC SALE.

GOVERNMENT'S FIRST MORT-GAGE LIEN SOLD.

Reorganization Committee Bid it in for Nearly Fifty-one Million Dollars.

MASTER IN CHANCERY'S FEE.

ESTIMATED AT ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Atty.-Gen. McKenna Shows That the Government's Interest in the Kansas Pacific Road is Protected.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OMAHA (Neb.,) Nov. 2.—The Reorganization Committee of the Union Pacific, which yesterday bought the government lien, the second mortgage, on the property of the Union Pacific, today purchased the first mortgage on the same property, by which the construction bonds were secured. The price paid was the amount named as the minimum bid, $50,637,435. The property was bought, as was the second mortgage yesterday, in the name of Louis Fitzgerald and Alvin Krech, as purchasing trustees.

Louis Fitzgeraid and Alvin Krech, as purchasing trustees.

The sale today was, if possible, more uninteresting than yesterday, not over forty people being present. It was il o'clock to the minute when Master in Chancery Cornish mounted the stone step in front of the Ninth-street entrance to the Hion Pacific ferisht depot trance to the Uion Pacific freight depot and began reading the notice of the and began reading the notice of the sale and the description of the prop-erty.

This consumed just thirty-six minutes, and he then read the same notice of protest from the Union Pacific Den-ver and Gulf road against the sale of two miles of track of the Cheyenne and Northern road, which is claimed by the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf, and the Union Pacific, that he read yesterday.

Mr. Cornish announced that the purchaser must take the property subject to the protest, and asked for bids for the property, the description of which to the protest, and asked for bids for the property, the description of which he had just read.

Gen. Louis Fitzgerald repeated his performance of yesterday, saying:

"I bid for the property, fifty millions, six hundred thirty-seven thousand, four hundred thirty-five dollars."

Master in Chancery Cornish repeated the amount, adding:

"Are there any other bidders? Does anybody else desire to bid?"

Apparently nobody cared to avail himself of the privilege, and then Mr. Cornish continued:

"Inasmuch as the bid of Louis Fitzgerald and Alvin W. Krech, purchasing trustees, is the highest bid, and the only bid, I declare the property sold to them for the sum of fifty million, six hundred and thirty-seven thousand, four hundred thirty-five dollars."

This concludes the sale, and as there is no other property to be sold, the thing is finished.

The report of the sale made yesterday was filed today in the office of the Clerk of the United States court.

The report cited the order of sale issued by Judge Sanborn, and, in accordance with the provisions of that order, mentions that representatives of the purchasers deposited with the master, within the proper time, a certified check for $2,000,000, as a guarantee on the bid for the property and another certified check for $1,364,525 to cover the sale of the sinking-fund bonds. The master says that when the property was offered ones for sale Louis Fitzgerald and Alvin W. Krech, representing the purchasers depositing with the master a certified check for $1,000,000, to guarantee the fulfillment of the bids.

The fee which the master who made the sales of yesterday and today will receive for his work, is estimated at $100,000. It may be over, and it may be something under it, but it is generally conceded that it will be close to that figure.

KANSAS PACIFIC SALE.

KANSAS PACIFIC SALE.

Atty.-Gen. McKenna Says the Gov-[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.-In discussing the sale of the Kansas Pacific Rail-road on December 15 and the assertions that the government interests in that property have been impaired by the sale of the Union Pacific, Atty.-Gen. McKenna said:

"The ownership of the Kansas Pacific is part of the committee's scheme of reorganization. The members hold liens similar to those of the government. They cannot make them good except by the ownership of the road. Besides, they are owners of the first mortgage. They must bid to make that good. But suppose the committee does not bid? Others will—the government not bid? Others will—the government may.

"The years 1890, 1891 and 1892 are the real tests of the Kansas Pacific's net income, and it can be put down at $1,000,000, and this is 4 per cent. on $25,000,000, 5 per cent. on $20,000,000. Does any sane business man believe, therefore, that the Reorganization Committee will let it be sold for $12,-300,000 when it will pay 4 per cent. on nearly twice that amount, 5 per cent. on nearly twice that amount, 5 per cent. on nearly $8,000,000 more than that amount, owning, as the committee does llens junior to that of the government, and which in such event would be a total loss? Would not this policy, to use the homely expression, be 'cutting off one's nose to spite one's face?'"

Disastrous Fire.

PINCONNING (Mich.,) Nov. 2.—This village was visited today by the worst conflagration in its history. The fire started in Dr. Porter's residence on Second street, leaped to Kaiser street, and cleaned out the buildings on both sides for three blocks. The wind was blowing a gale and the progress of the flames could not be stopped until everything was consumed. The total loss will reach $60,000, with $15,000 insurane. Several persons were burned while trying to save their chattels.

PROTEST AGAINST A SALOON IN THE ARMORY BUILDING.

LAWYER GOODRICH AND JUDGE SMITH HAVE A TILT.

cides the Underwood

. There is strong opposition to the proposition to open a saloon in the new mory building. Officers and men of National Guard have urged , upon the Police Commissioners that the ap-plication should be denied. As yet, however, no disposition has been shown y the majority of the commissioners heed these protests. The commissioners made a practical test yesterday of a new revolver with which they propose to equip the police. The scores made might properly be considered "unfit for publication."

Attorney Ben Goodrich appeared before Judge Smith yesterday and en-tered an objection to the court's re-marks concerning his withdrawal as counsel in the Blackman case, which necessitated a postponement of the trial. The attorney thought the court had acted unjustly toward him. Judge Smith became "riled up" and warned Smith became "riled up" and warned Mr. Goodrich that no criticism of the courte-would be permitted. A wordy conflict proceeded for some time. CRACK SHOTS.

OFFICIALS TRY HANDS AT TARGET PRACTICE.

Mayor Snyder and Commissioner Three Hits and Forty-seven Misses-Opposition to a Saloon in the Armory Building.

All previous records for bad marksmanship were broken yesterday when the Police Commissioners resorted to the shooting gallery of the Athletic Club in order to test the merits of a new revolver with which it is proposed to equip the police-force. Mayor Snyder and Commissioner Gibbon divided the honors, the other members of the board declining to exhibit their skill. Both of these gentlemen demonstrated that in revolver shooting they are past masters of how not to do it.

The exhibiton was given after the adjournment of the Police Board. With adjournment of the Police Board. With the two-fold purpose of examining the new patrol wagon and testing the 32-caliber Colt's revolver which the board desires to introduce on the police force, all the commissioners decided to resort to the Athletic Club. The trip was made in the patrol wagon, and no small surprise was occasioned as the party drove through the streets, accompanied by Chief Glass. People stopped in amazement at the unwonted sight of six city officials in the hurry-up wagon at the same time. same time at the same time.

When the shooting gallery was reached the Mayor and Mr. Gibbon, as the crack shots of the party, opened fire at the target at a range of fifty yards. Their shots went wide of the mark. Mr. Gibbon observed that it was five years since he had used a gun, and the Mayor responded with the assertion that he had not fired a shot for six years and thirty-seven days.

It was obvious they were too far from the target, so they began to advance in skirmishing order. At intervals shots were fired, and some of the more timid of the by-standers evinced a disposition to stand in front of the target.

The Mayor's sevenity was disturbed.

a disposition to stand in front of the target.

The Mayor's perenity was disturbed. His past reputation leaves no doubt that he can hit a barn, provided he is inside and the door is shut, but a target only twelve inches in diameter is too small for any reasonable man.

Chief Glass undertook to give the Mayor a few points. Under his tuition His Honor reversed his movement. Hitherto he had been slowly raising his arm from his side till it reached a horizontal position. Now he poised the gun in air above his head, dropping his arm till the target was sighted. Still the target displayed the same exasperating evasiveness, it was never there when the bullet arrived. That firm right hand which has boldly penned many a veto message had lost the standard which has boldly penned many a veto message had lost Mayor a few points. Under his tuition. That firm right hand which has boldy penned many a veto message had lost its steadiness. "The pen is mightier than the sword," murmured the Mayor as he shut his eves. clutched his gun with both hands and blazed away.

The two marksmen advanced slowly till within forty feet of the target. At this range accident were inevitable, and Mr. Gibbon planted two bullets in the target out of twenty-six fired, while the Mayor scored one out of twenty-four.

The other commissioners were not inclined to regard these records as a conclusive test of the merits of the gun. It is a 32-calibre Colt's made expressly for police service, and is in use in New York, Chicago and other eastern cities. The plan discussed by the commissioners is the the city shall purchase a sufficient number of wea-

The plan discussed by the commissioners is the the city shall purchase a sufficient number of weapons to equip the entire force, at a cost of $10 each, and that each policeman shall be required to deposit this sum when he receives his gun. These deposits will be returned when the men go out of service. It is considered desirable that all the policemen shall be equipped with revolvers of uniform pattern.

Another proposition under considers.

AN OBJECTIONABLE SALOON. AN OBJECTIONABLE SALOON.
When the Police Commission conled yesterday morning, the first matconsidered was the application of large Goodrich insists that it was Blackman's dyfty to inform the court of his withdrawal immediately after it had been tendered. Blackman attempted to explain away this point and Spring streets. The application was originally made several weeks ago, and has been before the police board ever since, action being deferred from week to week. The application has met with strong opposition from property-owners in the vicinity, and especially from members of the National Guard. The proposed location of the saloon is in the-building which is to be occupied as the National Guard armory. The officers and a large proportion of the men have expressed the strongest opposition to having a saloon in the building. There are already four saloons within a block of this corner. Gorman has not yet secured the consent of two-thirds of the frontage in the block, as required by the rules of the board, yet a disposition is plainly manifest among some of the commissioners to ignore the rule and the objections of protestants.

When the subject came up yesterday, Mr. Gibbon urged that it was the duty of the board to deny the application. He said that many of the young men who are members of the National Guard had appealed to him to prevent the granting of the license, on the ground that a saloon in the armory building would be injurious to the character and reputation of the National Guard. They urged also that it would prevent many young men of good standing from enlistings. Adjt.-Gen. Barrett had stated to Mr. Gibbon that he would refuse to sign demands for the rent of the armory if a saloon were located in the building.

On motion of Mr. Gibbon the matter was postponed one week, and the clerk was instructed to obtain from Gen. Barrett a written statement of his position in the matter.

Upon request by the officers of the Mateo-street car line and others, John C. Mason, the superintendent of the company, was appointed a special policeman without pay.

The application of C. H. Balzer for appointment as a policeman was received and filed.

The application of Winfield L. L. Bartlett for appointment as a special policeman was denied, upon a statement by Mayor Snyder that the applicant was unfit for the position

The Fire Commissioners assumed, when the last set of bids was before them, that there is no practical difference between the three or four leading brands of hose. This view is not borne out by the statements of the employes of the fire department, Experience has shown that the life of some brands of standard hose is much longer than that of others.

It is expected that the commissioners will make a more careful investigation on this point than was made before.

JUDGE SMITH AND ATTORNEY GOODRICH LOCK HORNS

Soodrich Requests an Explanation, Which He Failed to Receive. Aftermath in the Blackman De-

A matter came up in Department One yesterday which was not on the calendar, but all interested parties were present. They were Judge Smith and Attorney Ben Goodrich. The latter come into court and demanded, practically, an explanation from the court as to the reason of a long-range "roasting" given him by Judge Smith on the preceding day for not appear-ing for the defense in the Blackman

The court had just ordered that the Goodrich interrupted the proceedings.
"Your Honor, from verbal and writ ten reports of your remarks yesterda relative to my retirement from the Blackman case, I have become satisfied tend to."

Attorney Goodrich took exception to Judge Smith's ruling that he should have announced his withdrawal. "Had I been appointed by the court," he continued, "it would have been a different matter. I then would have felt under special obligations. As it is, I think your criticism of my conduct is unjust."

your criticism of my conduct is unjust."
"Now, Mr. Goodrich, I am not going to allow you or any one else to come here and criticise this court," Judge Smith replied.

The attorney attempted to explain that it had not been his intention to criticise the court, but that he was resenting a stricture which he considered unwarranted and unjust. He was interrupted in his explanation by Judge Smith, who shut him off with an order to the clerk to proceed in calling the calendar.

A Peculiar Remedy.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly-esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga county, N. Y., in a recent letter writes as follows: "There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the dyspessia from which I have suffered for ten years, except the new remedy called Stuart's Dypepsia tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating, and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, weedsport, N. Y., formerly Idalia, Colo."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild sitacks of indigestion or billousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is over-worked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it the much-needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or now much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The statest are prepared by the

with an affidavit in which he alleges that Goodrich did not inform him of his intention until three days prior to the date the case had been set for trial. Earl Rogers, Esq., has been engaged by Blackman to represent him in connection with F. G. Finlayson, Esq., who was to have served as associate counsel with Goodrich.

Erolinda Courtney to Be Tried fo Assault to Commit Murder.

Erolinda Courtney pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault to commit mur der, in Department One yesterday, and Judge Smith set her trial for December 24.

Mrs. Courtney was arrested at Duarte about six weeks ago for shooting Juan Sessmas in the back. The two had been living together for a long time. Sessmas wearied of Erolinda and deserted her. Learning that Sessmas was laboring in an orchard near Duarte, Erolinda mounted a horse and visited the place when he was expecting to leave off work for the night. Meeting him in the road, she asked him to return to her, as she relates the story, but Sessmas refused to talk with her. As he turned away to leave, the woman drew a revolver and fired the bullet, lodging in the center of the back immediately to the left of the spinal column. Sessmas has nearly recovered.

Another claimant for damages against the Main Street and Agricultural Park Railroad Company has aproken leg, alleged to have been caused broken leg, alleged to have been caused through the carelessness of employés. Mrs. Burns alleges in a complaint filed yesterday that while alighting from one of the company's cars, at the corner of Main and West Seventeenth streets in April last, she was thrown to the pavement, the car having been started while she was stepping from the platform.

As a result of the injuries sustained, Mrs. Burns alleges, she was confined to her bed for two months or more, and had been permanently cripp

UNDERWOOD DIVORCE.

Judge Allen Renders a Decision in

Judge Allen handed down a decision vesterday in the Underwood divorce case, submitted upon briefs several weeks ago, a decree being granted to Catherine Underwood from her husband, William, on a charge of cruelty.

The answer denied the allegations in The answer denied the allegations in the complaint and set up a prior divorce having been granted in Arkansas. Says the court: "Assuming, as we must, in the absence of evidence, that the laws of Arkansas are similar to those of this State, the record shows that the Arkansas court never had jurisdiction over the plaintiff in the divorce proceeding instituted there, and the decree as to her was a nullity." Relative to the property. Judge Allen isdiction over the plantiff in the divorce proceeding instituted there, and the decree as to her was a nullity."

Relative to the property, Judge Allen held that it had always belonged to Mrs. Underwood, and therefore would be awarded to her.

From the papers filed in the case it appears that the couple were married in Massachusetts in 1865. After having lived together they were divorced, the husband praying for and receiving a decree. Subsequently a reconciliation was effected, and the validity of the divorce denied by common consent on the ground that Underwood was not subject to the jurisdiction of the Arkansas courts at the time the proceedings took place.

In the action just decided in her favor Mrs. Underwood charged her husband with desertion, alleging that he had left home several years ago, without provocation or excuse. The answer to the complaint relates a different story. Underwood alleges that his wife had a bad habit of emptying a bucket of water upon him whenever she took a notion, and that she was not always as particular as she might have been as to the degree of cleanliness of the fiuld.

Mrs. Underwood stated that she was the owner of real estate in this city, and requested that she be awarded permanent right to its possession.

The objection to the suit, as stated by Underwood in his answer, appears to be based entirely upon the claim made to the ownership of the property by Mrs. Underwood.

THREE DIVORCES.

Cruelty and Desertion the Grounds on Which They Were Granted.

stand was Lizzie I. Jackson, who sought a legal separation from her husband, Peter Jackson, on the ground of desertion. Peter, the wife said, had proved a worthless fellow, never contributing toward her support and spending all his money for drink. The last time she heard of him he was in Honolulu. A decree was granted.

Carrie Reid obtained a divorce from her husband, E. Reid, on grounds of desertion and cruelty. The complaining witness testified that her husband had not only refused to support her, but had, upon numerous occasions, slapped her in the face and otherwise brutally treated her.

It did not require much evidence to satisfy Judge Smith that E. Miguirray was arrived to a decree from her wife.

stapped her in the tace and otherwise-brutally treated her.

It did not require much evidence to satisfy Judge Smith that E. Miguirray was entitled to a decree from his wife on a charge of desertion, although con-siderable difficulty was encountered in obtaining the plaintiff's story of his grievances. He is deaf and dumb. Miguirray's story was that his wife ran away with a man named Chavez, a resident of Ventura. He had a small farm a short distance outside of Los Angeles, which he had paid for before his marriage, and requested that he be allowed to remain in absolute pos-session.

Before sentence was passed, Vasalo's attorney moved for a new trial upon the ground that the policy for insurance on the property, set forth as a motive for the crime, had not been produced in evidence. Judge Smith denied the motion, holding that a duplicate of the written portion of the policy had been produced by the agent, who issued it.

A stay of execution was granted, upon the attorney's filing a notice of appeal and a certificate of probable cause being issued by the court.

Vasalo prefers to start in upon his term at once, however, and he may be taken to Folsom on Friday. If his appeal should be denied, he will have gained the time elapsing during its

Courts Can Compel Doctors to Testify in Court.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SPRINGFIELD (III.) Nov. 2.—A decision which has just been rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Dixon vs. the People, is of great interest to professional men, who are called upon to give expert testimony in the courts. Dr. J. N. Dixon of this city, who was called as an expert witness in a personal injury case against the city of Springfield, refused to testify unless he was first paid a reasonable fee for this service, claiming that his professional opinion was his own property and could not be taken away from him, except by due process of law, as provided in the State Constitution. Judge Creighton ruled against him and fined him for contempt of court. The court held that this professional knowledge was not property within the meaning of the Constitution and that in the exercise of the right of the court to summon witnesses and compel them to testify no distinction could be made between kinds of knowledge. To allow such a distinction would defeat the ends of justice. The finding of Judge Creighton is upheld by the Supreme Court.

An Overdose Killed Denver's Popular Postmaster.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT]

DENVER, Nov. 2.—James H. Jordan, postmaster of Denver, died at midnight from the effects of an overdose of morphine pills, taken last evening, supposing them to be cathartic pills.

Jordan was born at Shreveport, La., in 1847. In New Orleans he became actively identified with Democratic politics. In 1891 he came to Denver. He was appointed postmaster through the influence of Louisiana members of Congress. His administration has given general satisfaction. His term would have expired February 20, 1898.

Mr. Jordan was one of the most enthusiastic promoters of the annual Festival of Mountain and Plain. The experience gained in New Orleans in Mardi Gras festivals was invaluable, and many of the most pleasing features of Denver's festival were originated by him. phine pills, taken last evening, sup-

THE LEMON MARKET. The lemon market in the East has shown much improvement during the past few weeks. The quantities of lemons on the way have been insignificant, as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The Fruitman's Guide of last year. The Fruitman's Guide says:

"Had importers refrained from withdrawing lemons and permitted them to go into ocnsumption, the market would have been cleaned up several weeks ago, and a rise would have occurred ere this, but dealers 'hroughout the country were timid in speculating, owing to the rumfors which were circulated relative to the large quantities of Jemons in storage. Within the past two weeks these lemons have been placed on the market at figures far below the value at the time of their arrival. Exporters in Italy have been heavy losers, and importers now learn that the first loss is always the best."

The outlook for California lemons is better just now than it has been for a long time. In San Francisco California lemons are largely taking the place of limes.

A GOOD SHOWING. A. H. Naftzger, president of the Southern California Fruit Exchange, who has been visiting New York on business connected with the exchanges, told the Fruitman's Guide that the business of the exchanges during the past season amounted to over $1,500,000, while the losses from bad accounts was only $220. This is certainly a remarkably good showing.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

ANOTHER TRANSCONTINENTAL LINE. According to the monthly bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics the Mexican government has officially promulgated a concession for a railroad from Chihuahua, Mex., to the Pacific Coast. Messrs. Alfred A. Spendlove and E. C. Creel are empowered to construct a railway to start from the city of Chihuahua, or from a point on the Mexican Central Railroad south of Chihuahua, and to extend in a westerly direction to a point on the Pacific Coast in the State of Sonora. Within one year from April 13, 1897, the concessionaires must submit to the Department of Communications the Department of Communications the plans for the first section of 200 kilometers. The subsequent plans shall be presented in sections of at least twenty-five kilometers, and in Such manner that the construction may not be retarded for lack of plans.

Construction shall begin as soon as the Department of Communications has approved the plans, and within two years 200 kilometers must have been completed.

Subsequent construction shall proceed at the rate of 100 kilometers annually, and the entire road, with its telegraph line, must be completed within ceed at the rate of 100 kilometers annu-ally, and the entire road, with its tele-graph line, must be completed within seven years from April 13, 1897. Con-struction work may begin at either end of the line. A telegraph line shall end of the line. A telegraph line shall be built for the exclusive use of the road. The company, with the consent of the Department of Communications, may build a terminal of the road on the Pacific—piers, wharves and warehouses for the handling of merchandise—and may charge for their use by the public a moderate schedule of rates, to be submitted for approval to the Department of Communications.

The plan for the wharves and other structures shall also be submitted for the aproval of the same department.

To aid the construction of the line, the government agrees to pay to the company a subvention subject to certain conditions. The subsidized length of the line is 600 kilometers.

OPENING FOR CALIFORNIA AS-OPENING FOR CALIFORNIA AS-PHALT. The city of Buenos Ayres has in contemplation the paving of her streets with asphalt. For this purpose bids are to be asked in the United States, England and France, and the specifications are to be made covering 150 blocks. According to advices re-ceived from Mr. Buchanan, United States Minister at Buenos Ayres, the specifi-cations are to be forwarded to the Ar-gentine legation at Washington.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Wheat started weak at from $5½ to $5% for December, about ½c below the closing prices of the day before. The tendency during the greater part of the forenoon was toward a further break, and that was made easy by the duliness of trade. About an hour and a half from the opening December got down to $5½. Chicago receipts were 236 cars. Liverpool quotations for futures were favorable to the bears, buc California wheat on spot there was add higher than it closed the day before. The futures opened from $½ detay before the flower at profit based on present prices of wheat. Argentine crop news continued to be of its previous favorable complexion. Further rains have fallen throughout the drought-stricken district east of the Mississippi, and a material improvement in the pasturage and winter-wheat prospects is looked for. All this was known before the opening, and was responsible for the weakness shown during the morning. The first matter of a clearly bullish enough character to arrest the strong downward tendency was the report in the Orange Judd Farmer of the acreage and condition of winter wheat as it stood October 23. That report indicates the worst prospect for a winter-wheat crop next season ever known at this time of year. December rose of $66. Some export business was done from here, 40,000 bushels No. 2 spring and 120,000 bushels red winter. December rose dat $66. Corn was weak early in sympathy with wheat, but rallied later. DAVIS ROBBED FEATHER. The Latter Assumed the Role of Sucker Yesterday

A rancher from San Fernando, W. M. Feather by name, is the latest to go against the Spring street grafters, organized under the able head of "Poker" Davis. Feather lost $245 yes-terday morning, and as yet no action that really is an action has been taken in the matter.

Feather came to Los Angeles yes terday morning. With great good, luck he ran across a very agreeable young man. Feather is greatly interyoung man. Feather is greatly interested in that mineralogy which relates to Klondike, and could not but accept with gratitude the offer of the plausible young man to show some of the specimens of real Klondike nuggets. The usual game of cards dissipated the otherwise disagreeable wait for an absent party, and Feather soon found $70 of his good cash and a $175 check, drawn by him on the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, in the possession of the gang. This was the man's savings for the past three years, but as he did not realize that he had been robbed he neglected reporting the matter to the police until the afternoon. The check had then been cashed by Davis.

The case was given into the hands check had then been cashed by Davis.

The case was given into the hands of Detective Bradish, who sent Feather to the bank for the youcher. He did not accompany. Feather. As it was began his new duties, succeeding Gen. after 3 o'clock, the bank was, of course, 11 closed, and Detective Bradish is living in hopes, he says, of the man returning for a complaint today. Bradish is very zealous in the matter and said last night that he would have the complaint issued for conspiracy to defraud, in which Chief Glass will back him. Should the "sucker" never come back, Bradish might go into a decline through grief and disappointment.

RAILWAY MAIL BOXES. Revenues of Country Postmasters Will Be Increased.

Postmaster-General Gary has de-lared an amendment to postal laws which should gladden the hearts of country postmasters. The old rule was that postmasters could not cancel stamps anywhere except in the postoffice itself, and as it is only the cancelling of stamps that counts in the revenues of the office, they have been materially decreased by the habit so many country business men have of taking belated mail to the train. By the new order, mail boxes may be es-tablished at the railway stations, and postmasters allowed the credit of the stamps cancelled there.

Two Extra Clerks.

The Los Angeles postoffice has had its force increased by the addition of two more clerks. Since October 1 business has plied up to such an extent that more help became a necessity. It was granted without question or delay by the Postal Department at Washington, and the men begin work at Chinese Elopers Released on Bond. Guey Moi and Wong Lick, the Chinese elopers, were yesterday released by Wong Duck, the elusive Guey's master. No explanation was given, but the larceny complaint will doubtless be withdrawn, its object being merely to secure the aid of the police in the capture of the girl.

HASKIN FOUND GUILTY

Meeting of Directors of Board of Trade-Oratorio Society Soloists Selected-Death of Two Wellknown Ladies-Minor Mention.

PASADENA, Nov. 2.—[Regular Correspondence] Fred R. Haskin, the young proprietor of the Sterra Madre Hotel, who figured unpleasantly some time ago in the local court with Ola Fischer, Vosburg, and a colored man named Murray, was tried today for disturbing the peace. Haskins and his companions indulged in a grand spree, during which revolvers were fired, glasses broken and some very choice Bowery language indulged in to such an extent that young Haskin's father swore out a warrant for the arrest of the three men on a charge of disturbing the peace.

three men on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The trio were brought before Recorder Rossiter and Vosburg and Murray pleaded guilty, but Haskin pleaded not guilty, and upon trial was found guilty. His lawyers, Hester & Ladd, field a bill of exceptions and asked for a change of venue, as Haskin had but a few days prévious been before Recorder Rossiter charged with adultery with Ola Fischer. The case was transferred to Justice Gleason's court, in South Pasadena, and was called today. The courtroom was crowded. A jury was secured without difficulty, and the evidence submitted was substantially the same as given in the Recorder's court. The defense fought every step and Asst.-Dist.-Atty. Willams looked after the people's interest. The case was not given to the jury until well toward evening, and a few minutes later a verdict of guilty of disturbing the peace was returned. Justice Gleason deferred soutence.

DIRECTORS OF BOARD OF TRADE.

The meeting of the directors of the Board

The meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade held this morning was attended by Secretary Wiggins of the Los Angeles Cham-Secretary Wiggins of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who urged that Pasadena take a page in the forthcoming pamphlet to be issued by the Chamber of Commerce descriptive of Southern California. Water Company's Dubious State-ment About Water Supply.

ment About Water Supply.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 2.—[Regular Correspondence.] The water company recently notified the City Trustees that it was prepared, as it at all times had been, to supply fresh water for street sprinkling. This declaration seems to have been designed to head off any proposition to obtain water from any other sources, and its truth is disputed.

During the past summer the company established strict regulations governing the sprinkling of lawns. Such sprinkling was not permitted late at night, but only for two hours or so in the evening-during a considerable part of the symmer. If the reason for such limitations had been that the sprinkling would have greatly reduced the pressure was needed for other domestic purposes, it is argued that there would have been no need to prohibit lawn sprinkling late at night. It is therefore contended that the regulation was simply on account of a scant water supply.

About July 1 fresh-water connection was shut off from the hydrants through which the supply for street sprinkling was obtained, so that sea water was used instead. This state of affairs existed at all the fresh-water. sprinkling hydrants, save one, in South Santa Monica. One day in July that hydrant was shut off also, the reason glvgn for such shutting off being that three was a scarcity of water.

That same night three citizens visited the

That same night three citizens visited the company's reservoir and measured the depth of water therein. The depth was found to be only six inches. The size of the reservoir closely approximates 100 feet square. Ocean water is used for most of the street sprinkling now being done, although the supply of fresh water is said to be plentiful at present.

The assertion that the company has at all times had plenty of water arouses unfriendly feeling toward the concern. One citizen seemed to voice the sentiment of many others poday when he said: "" suppose the persons it the head of the company's affairs desired to keep from the public the question of pos-sible previous scarcity in water supply, fear-ing that if the fact got out it would keep possible settlers from coming here. This, it seems to me, was a very shorf-sight policy. A fair statement of the facts ough not to hur the town. If the company's communication to the City Trustees had candidly stated the conditions that have prevailed I believe the town would have been shared from a good deal of added ill feeling."

VENTURA, Nov. 2.—[Regular Correspondence.] Although a vigorous campaign is being prosecuted in all eastern cities for the control of the municipal government, the politicians of Ventura are rather quiet at present. An election is to be held this fall, at which a Town Council, Town Clerk and Town Marshal are to be elected. Neither of the political parties will hold a convention, but all candidates will be placed on the tight by restition.

the political parties will hold a convention, but all candidates will be placed on the ticket by netition.

The present Council, which has served for a number of terms, will proabbly run again. At present it is removed that the old board will meet with some opposition. For Town Clerk J. F. Newby, who has served for the past twenty years, with the exception of one term, is a candidate for reelection. Nathan N. Shaw, ex-postmaster, is also mentioned as a promising candidate.

The office of Town Marshal seems to strike the ambition of numerous persons. T. F. Webster, the incumbent; W.-H. A. Thompson, Harry tkoberts, and W.-H. A. Thompson, Harry tkoberts, and W.-H. A. Thompson, Harry tkoberts, and W.-H. A. Russell are mentioned as candidates for this race. The first three mentioned ran two years ago.

The question of incorporating the town as a city of the fifth class will also be submitted to the people. The town may, if it as a corrected to a city of the fifth class, but it is generally supposed that this question will be shown that the superior will be snowed under when the time comes. The election will be held on the first Monday in December. All candidates will have until November 13 to file their petitions.

School District to Be Circulated.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—[Regular Correspondence.] J. J. Ebanks, the murderer of Mrs. Harriet Stiles and her aged father, near Oceanside, was arraigned in the Superior Court of San Diego county today, this being the third time that he has been sentenced to be hanged. He was first sentenced by Superior Judge Pierce on April 6, 1896, to hang June 19 of the same year, but an appeal to the Supreme Court carried the case, by the date of execution. When the decision came and confirmed the action of the lower court, the murderer was again sentenced, this time to be hanged October 8, 1897, eight days after sentence had been pronounced upon him. An appeal to a higher court was again taken, this time to the United States Supreme Court. This again delayed the execution, and today Ebanks was brought before Judge Torrance of Department One of the Superior Court, to be sentenced for a third time. Before the taking up of this case, however, and immediately upon the court being opened, the contempt proceedings against Acting Warden Edgar for refusing to hang Ebanks upon the day appointed by the court was called. Asst.—Atty.—Gen. Henry E. Carter, under whose instructions Capt. Edgar acted in disobeying the order of the court in the Ebanks matter, addressed the court, but was immediately interrupted by Judge Torrance and asked if he appeared as attorney for Capt. Edgar or for the people of the State of California, and not receiving a negative reply, the court created something of a sensation by producing a copy of this morning's San Diego Vidette and reading therefrom an extract from an interview with Mr. Carter, relative to the Ebanks approceedings will bring it into the United States Supreme Court and the question will be estitled once and for all. Meantime it is not thought that Ebanks will be resentenced, as such action is liable to bring Judge Torrance into contempt of that honorable body, providing his present attitude has not already done so."

as such action is liable to bring Judge Torrance into contempt of that honorable body, providing his present attitude has not already done so."

Judge Torrance asked Mr. Carter whether or not he had made such a statement. If he had, he did not think it proper for him to appear in the case, as he would construe the paragraph as an attempt to influence the court. Mr. Carter immediately replied that he had been interviewed by a Vidette reporter, but denied making the statement attributed to him. He also stated that he had been misquoted by the Union as well as the Vidette, and that he trusted the court would not hold him responsible for what the newspapers might quote him as saying. This point cleared, Mr. Carter was permitted to proceed with the filing and reading of the acting warden's answer as to why he should not be punished for contempt, the answer holding that Ebanks should be hanged on October S, between sunrise and sunset, and that an appeal was taken that day to the Supreme Court, staying the execution. At 4 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Carter and Dist.-Atty. Sweet finished their arguments in the contempt proceedings; and Judge Torrance took the matter under advisement until Friday morning, next. Upon motion of Ebanks's attorney, his resentence to death went over to the same time.

Mrs. Pinkham's Explanation of the Unusual Number of Deaths and Prostrations Among Women.

The great heat plague of August, 1896, was not without its lesson. One could not fail to notice in the long lists of the dead throughout this country, that so many of the victims were women in their thirties, and women between forty-five and fifty.

The women who succumbed to the protracted heat were women whose energies were exhausted by sufferings peculiar to their sex; women who, taking no thought of themselves, or who, attaching no importance to first symptoms, allowed their female system to become run down.

Some of them that are sold under highsounding names have no more electric power than a piece of string around the waist. These are the kind which are sold at $1 and $2. Others that do not generate a sensible current are so made that it is impossible to control the current, which burns and blisters so that no one can wear them. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is different from all these. #### COMMITTED SUICIDE.

JURY SAYS SWEENEY PURPOSELY STEPPED IN FRONT OF A CAR.

Blamed for the Affair-Rendered All the Assistance They Could After the Man Was Hurt, but Forgot to Report to the Police. The Coroner's jury, at the inquest held yesterday morning on the body of Edward Sweeney, the old man who was struck by a Traction car at the corner of San Pedro and Third streets Sunday night and died Monday noon of his injuries, returned a verdict of suicide. It developed at the inquest that Sweeney had twice before attempted to kill himself, once, in this city, several years ago, by cutting an artery with a pen knife and once, four years ago, at San Diego. His body is being held by the undertakers pending the arrival of Sweeney's son, who lives in San Diego.

Ities in San Diego.

The conductor and motorman of the car that struck Sweeney testified that after the accident they rendered all the assistance they could to the wounded man, and that police assistance arrived very soon. The statement had been made by the police that the conductor and motorman did not wait to see what the man's injuries were, but continued their trip with the wait to see what the man's injuries were, but continued their trip with the car, leaving Sweeney lying upon his face in the street. While the witnesses did not touch upon this directly, the inference to be drawn from their testimony is that they did wait for the arrival of the patrol wagon. Passengers who were on the car say that is the fact.

Presumably the trainmen were so disturbed by the trainmen were so disturbed by the tragedy that they did not think to give their names to the police when the wagon arrived, and as they did not make themselves known, the driver of the patrol wagon very reasonably concluded that they were not present and had gone on with their car.

The number of the car and the names

The number of the car and the names

The number of the car and the names of the conductor and motorman were not known when Sweeney was brought to the hospital, and a detective was detailed to ascertain the circumstances of the accident and find the men who were running the car.

The verdict of the jury exonerates the railroad employés and relieves them from any imputation of carelessness.
